

LANDHUIS CHOBOLOBO

YOUR EVENT.
OUR HERITAGE.
ONE UNFORGETTABLE EXPERIENCE.

Our Mansion

Landhuis Chobolobo, built in the 19th century, is one of Curaçao's most iconic country houses. Originally part of a bustling salt plantation in the Saliña area, once known for trading "white gold", the mansion has been carefully restored and preserved through the centuries.

Its name, Chobolobo, comes from the Indian word Sebolobo, meaning "freedom," reflecting the island's vibrant spirit. In 1896, the Senior family transformed the estate into the home of the Genuine Curaçao Liqueur. They lived upstairs and produced their famous blue liqueur downstairs a tradition that marked the beginning of a true Curaçao icon.

Today, this historic mansion continues to bring people together. With its elegant architecture, tropical gardens, and authentic atmosphere. Landhuis Chobolobo has become a unique venue for hosting unforgettable events, from intimate gatherings to large celebrations, where history and hospitality meet.
